We invite you to join us over the holiday weekend for an adventure in Pt. Mugu State Park, where hills and river valleys of the Santa Monica Mountains adjoin the beaches, bluffs, and dunes of the ocean shoreline! On our trips, we prioritize cooperation, risk management, and responsible stewardship of our environment. Our goal is to foster a supportive, active, and inclusive atmosphere in which we can enjoy each other’s company and appreciate the natural history in the unique ecosystems we visit. Participants can look forward to learning skills like pitching tents securely, staying comfortable in varied weather, and practicing leave-no-trace ethics on daily hikes.
Trip Itinerary*

Day 1: We meet at the Outdoor-Adventures Center at 9:00am and perform a gear check to make sure everyone has what they need to be comfortable on the trip. Then, we drive up the coast to Pt. Mugu State Park. Upon arrival, we establish our camp and have lunch. Later, we take a short trip to explore the beach. In the evening, we unwind at camp before retiring to our sleeping bags.
Lunch, dinner, and snacks are included.

Day 2: We spend most of the day hiking through the beautiful, coastal-sage-scrub habitat, while learning about its natural history and practicing leave-no-trace ethics. We have breakfast at camp, a picnic lunch on the trail, and dinner back at camp. Then, we spend the evening relaxing and, weather permitting, observing celestial objects in the night sky.
Breakfast, lunch, and snacks are included.

Day 3: After breakfast, we break camp and hit the trail for a short hike. Following a picnic lunch, we head back to campus. Our estimated time of arrival at UCLA ranges from 4:00pm to 10:00pm, but can be later depending on traffic and other variables outside of our control.
Breakfast, lunch, and snacks are included. Dinner is not included, so we recommend bringing either food or funds to purchase food as needed on the drive home.

*Changes may be made to this itinerary at any time to adapt to weather, traffic, and other factors. Flexibility makes the unpredictability of outdoor trips an enjoyable adventure.

Trip Description

Type and Facilities: This trip is a “car-camping” adventure; we make our camp in one of the park’s established campgrounds where our van is parked next to us. Basic restroom-facilities are available in the campground.

Difficulty: This trip is of moderate difficulty. Participants should be able to hike several miles a day, while carrying a small amount of weight in daypacks. We take breaks on the trail and endeavor to hike at a pace that everyone can enjoy.

Weather: The weather on the coast and in the mountains can change quickly; it has the potential to be stormy (e.g., windy, rainy) and cold (e.g., close to freezing) as well as sunny and hot.
